

Curriculum Vitae

Olga Melnichenko

Counselor in Private Law of the International and Comparative Law Research Center

In 2008 graduated from St. Petersburg State University (bachelor's degree). In 2010 received The Master's degree in St. Petersburg State University (Civil, Family, International Private Law).

Since 2008 till 2020 she worked in the Presidential Domestic Policy Directorate of the Presidential Executive Office.

Since 2013 to present — Senior Lecturer of the Department of Civil Law and Procedure of the Higher School of Economics Saint Petersburg School of Law.

Since July 2020, she started working the International and Comparative Law Research Center.

Olga coordinates the private law analysis of drafts of legal acts and international instruments developed by the United Nations Commission on International Trade Law and the International Institute for the Unification of Private Law. She participates in events on the topics of the Center's work (private international law, contract law, digitalization of trade, experimental legal regulation, etc.).